Young Workers in Agriculture Webinars August 11, 2015 & September 14, 2015

Stand T.A.L.L. – Instructional materials to empower youth working in agriculture

August 11, 2015, 9-10a.m. <http://www.agrisafe.org/calendar> (click on “Current & Upcoming Events”)

Agriculture is a highly dangerous profession, even for adults. Working with grain increases the hazards and requires that workers are well trained and highly alert to these dangers. The “Stand T.A.L.L.” instructional materials empower young workers by helping them understand what they need to know about a job and encouraging them to ask questions if they don’t understand a task or are uncomfortable performing it. This webinar will describe hazards commonly seen in the agricultural worksite, introduce the “Stand T.A.L.L.” materials and explain how and when they may be used to educate young workers, parents and employers.

Learning to Use the “Stand T.A.L.L.” Instructional Materials: A train the trainer webinar

September 14, 2015, 3:30-4:30p.m. <http://www.agrisafe.org/calendar> (click on “Current & Upcoming Events”)

This “Train the Trainer” webinar will enable agricultural instructors, community members, safety professionals and others with an interest in agricultural safety to use the “Stand T.A.L.L.” instructional materials. The webinar will explore the various components of the curriculum, including PowerPoint presentations, activities, lesson plans, student note pages, handouts, quizzes and more. Participants will understand when and how to use the various components of this comprehensive curriculum. At the end of the webinar, a link that provides access to all the instructional materials will be provided.
